Introduction

The Foundation for Medieval Genealogy (FMG) has the objects of advancing public education in the study of medieval genealogy and prosopography, promoting research into medieval genealogy and publishing the results of that research. The FMG journal Foundations has been published twice yearly since 2003 in both printed and web-based formats. Further details are available on our website (http://fmg.ac/) or from the address printed inside the cover. From 2012 onwards, the journal will be an annual publication.

This index to Volume 3 covers six issues published between 2009 and 2011 and follows a format similar to those for Volumes 1 and 2, published in 2005 and 2009 respectively. There are five sections, the largest being the index to people. The complete Table of Contents to Vol.3 is also provided.

The following conventions have been adopted. Although the general principle of indexing people by surname has been followed, this is not applicable in many cases to medieval names, and patronymic, geographical or other descriptors have been used where available. In many cases prepositions or articles (of, de, le, la) have been omitted. Where included, the preposition follows the main index term (eg "Ballon, Hamelin de") except where it is an integral part of the surname (De la Mare). Nobility are indexed by the family name where given in the article ("Warenne, John de, Earl of Surrey") or otherwise by the geographical element of their title ("Cornwall, Richard, Earl of"). Royalty, clerics and a few other cases are indexed by their personal/Christian name ("Edward III, king of England"; "Juhal, archbishop of Dol").

In the Index of Places, British locations are identified where possible with the three letter "Chapman" county code. These codes are widely used and may be found on a number of Internet sites or in general reference works on British genealogy.

Inevitably, decisions about which terms to index, and which not, are somewhat arbitrary. Complete consistency is difficult to achieve and the compiler apologises for any confusion or omissions.

Foundations Vol.3 was published in 6 parts, but as the page sequence was continuous no reference is given in the index to individual part numbers. They may be referenced as follows:

Part 1: pages 1-80;
Part 2: pages 81-176;
Part 3: pages 177-280;
Part 4: pages 281-346;
Part 5: pages 347-486;
Part 6: pages 487-564;.
Index: pages 565-579
