James Greenstreet, whose articles on the Rolls of Arms were especially interesting to him, his Sussex books to his nephew and executor (Mr. William J. Ellis), some to the Sussex Archæological Society, and his general genealogical and heraldic books to the writer. A. S. Ellis.

Notes on the Foreign Coats in Planche's Roll of Arms.

(Continued from Vol. VI. p. 227.)

422. Roger de Rome.—John, Sire de Rume in the Tournaisis m. Beatrix dau. of Hugh,[1] Sire d'Antoing, and d. 6 May 1292. (M. de Harcourt, preuves 2125; Chron. of B. d'Avesnes). This was perhaps a yr. brother, as the lion pass. was a difference.

423. John de Scoruvy.—Probably Escornais in Flanders. John de Gavre, Sire d'E. and Herimez, who d. 1316, was nephew of Rasse I. Sire de Lidekercke [No. 371]. He bore the ancient arms of Gavre, Or a double tressure Vert, with the addition of a chevron Gu. (B. II. 79).

424. Le Sires de Audenarde.—No. 384 gives the arms correctly.

425. Le Chasteleins de Douay.—Froald, Châtelain de Douai was killed at Courtrai 11 July 1302. Vert a chief Erm. Cri:—Douay passez oultre![2]

427. Le Chasteleins de Ruuele.—Ralph, Sire de Nevele in Flanders, Châtelain de Courtrai, yr. son of Everard-Radoul Sire de Mortaigne, Châtelain de Tournai. He m. Jane dau. of William de Béthune I., Sire de Locres. He d. before 1287. (B. I. 582, Suppl. II, Add. 1; Carpentier, III. 814, 833; M de Bethune 257).

428. William de Locres.—William de Béthune III., Sire de Locres and Hebuterne (1274, 1279.) He m. Jane de Néelle, dau. of John III. Sire de Falvy. He was ancestor of the Dukes of Sully. (M. de Bethune 269-279; A. IV. 212; Moréri, II. 432; St. Allais,[3] VI. 68).

429. Le Sire de Haueskircke.—John, Sire de Haveskercke in Flanders (1260); he was also Sire d'Estaires, which he obtained from Robert de Béthune in 1286, and Gavenier du Cambrésis in 1290. (Espinoy, 146, 171; Carpentier, III. 669).

430. Bertans de Marines.—Walter Berthout VI., Sire du Pays de Malines and Avoué of the town (1243-85). He m. (1238) Mary dau. of William X. Count of Auvergne. Or, three pales Gu. (B. II. 62, 68).

431. Bertans sun fiz.—Walter Berthout VII., Sire, etc., de Malines. He m. (1271) Alice dau. of Arnoul III. Count of Guines, and was killed at Woeringen 5 June 1288. Or three pales Gu., a canton of Brabant; his mother was niece of Henry II. Duke of Brabant. (B. I. 407, II. 68).

432. Arnold de Walehaing.—Arnoul III., Sire de Walhain in the Pays de Liège, Avoué de Gemblours (1270); or his son Arnoul IV. (1288, 1290). (B. II. 192; Hemricourt, 111).

[1] La Roque erroneously calls him Hugh de Melun.

[2] P. Roger, Noblesse et Chevalerie de Flandre d'Artois et de Picardie, Amiens, 1843.

[3] St. Allais, Nobiliare Universel de France, 8vo. 1814.

433. JOHAN DE BERLAER.—John Berthout de Berlaer, Sire de Gramines [see No. 381]. He m. Mary dau. of Arnoul, Châtelain de Tournai, and d. 1305-26. Arg. three pales Gu. (𝔅. II. 176, 180).

434. LE SIRE DE BAUTESAYNE.—Henry IV., Sire de Bautershem near Louvain, Santhoven and Rode, Seneschal of Brabant in 1266. He m. Margaret dau. of Godfrey, Sire de Wesemaele, and d. before 1290. His seal (1270) shows that to his paternal arms, Vert three mascles Arg., he had added a chief of Berthout; his mother was probably a dau. of Walter IV. Sire de Malines. (𝔅. II. 208, 211).

435. WALERAN DE LA MONIOYE.—Waleran II., 'le Roux,' Sire de Fauquemont or Valkenbourg (near Maestricht) and de Montjoie (1268-1301-2), was grandson of Waleran III. (II.) Duke of Limbourg. He m. (before 1275) Philippa dau. of Otto III., (IV.) Count of Gueldres. Arg. a lion ramp. tail forked Gu. crowned Or, [a label Az.]. (𝔅. I. 317, 338; II. 312, 321; 𝔇. III. Suppl. xiii).

436. WILLIAM DE HORNES.—William, Sire de H., Altena and Weert in Brabant (1264-1300). He m. Margaret, said to have been a dau. of a Count of Loss. He was ancestor of the Counts and Princes of Hornes. (𝔅. II. 99; Moréri, VI. 77).

437. GEAFFREY DE MUNSEINBURGH.—Perhaps Münzenberg in Hesse. Or a chief Gu.; or, per fesse Gu. and Or. (Rietstap.)

438. JOSCELINS DE HORNE.—Goswin, Sire de Borne (1269, 1288), grandson of Gerard, Sire de Wassemberge and B., a yr. son of Henry III. (IV.) Duke of Limbourg. (𝔅. II. 312). His arms, according to Butkens (I. 316, 454), were Gu. a lion ramp. tail forked Arg. crowned Or. But Reitstap attributes to Borne of Limbourg the arms in the Roll.

439. LE SIRE DE LEOCE.—John, Count of Loss[1] in the Pays de Liège, m. 1. a dau. of William IV., Count of Juliers; 2. Isabel dau. of Jacques, Sire de Condé. He d. 1280. The Counts of Loss are considered to have been descended from Rodolf, a yr. son of Rainier II., Count of Hainault. Barry of 10 Or[2] and Gu. (𝔇. III. 147; 𝔄. III. 330).

440. WALORAINE DE LUSSEMBURE.—Waleran I., Sire de Ligny-en-Barrois and de Roussy, second son of Henry le Grand, Count of Luxembourg. He m. Jane hss. of Beaurevoir, widow of Giles de Beaumetz, Châtelain de Bapaume, and was killed at Woeringen 5 June 1288. Barry Az. and Arg., a lion ramp. tail forked Gu. armed and langued (and sometimes crowned) Or; a chief of the last. (M. de Luxembourg 103; 𝔅. II. 314; 𝔄. III. 722).

441. LE SENISCHALL DE HAYNAM.—Jacques, Sire de Werchin and la Longueville, Seneschal of Hainault, [great] grandson of William, Sire de Château-Thierry (comté de Namur), a yr. son of Baldwin IV., Count of Hainault. The office of Seneschal passed to the family of Barbençon on the death of John de W. at the battle of Agincourt. (Vinchant, 243; 𝔅. I. 92.)

442. JOHAN DE HENUM.—John de Hennin, Sire de Cuvillers (Cambrésis), who d. in 1300, was great grandson of Simon, who is by some said to have been a yr. son of Thierry d'Alsace, Count of Flanders—

[1] I am not certain that Loss is intended. Bendy of 6 Or and Gu. were the arms of Walter d'Avesnes, Sire de Leuse in Hainault, (Count of Blois j. ux.), who d. before Damietta in 1249; Leuse then passed to the Châtillons.

[2] Anselme says Arg., but incorrectly.

probably a fiction. He was ancestor of the Counts of Boussu, Princes of Chimay. (Vinchant, 244; Carpentier, III. 479; St. Allais, IX. 337).

443. OTES DE TASOGINES.—Otto de Trasignies, Sire de Haquignies and Braine-Chastel (1247, 1282). On his seal (1247), bendy of 6 and a bordure engr., without the lion.[1] His uncle Giles le Brun, Constable of France, bore in addition a canton sinister Erm. (B. II. 171). Anselme's account of this family is unsatisfactory.

444. GYLLES DE CHIN.—Giles, Sire de Chin (Hainault) and de Busignies (Cambrésis). The arms occur on seals (1217, 1300). (Carpentier, III. 342, preuves 26, 39), Their identity with those of Coucy once occasioned a confusion related by Froissart, bk. I., chap. 317.

445. WALTER DE TUPIGNI.—Walter, Sire de Tupegny (Cambrésis), and his wife Matilda d'Audenarde, occur in 1262 as confirming certain donations to the Abbey of Vaucelles. (Carpentier, III. 123; B. I. 608).

446. GERARS DE LAUETT.—Probably Gerard III., Sire de Jauche (Brabant) and de Baudour (Hainault), 1260, 1288. Gu. a fesse Or; the Counts of Mastaing, collaterally descended, added a divise vivrée (i.e. a barrulet dancette in chief) also Or. (B. II. 133; Carpentier, III. 701).

447. NYCHOL DE BALLNEZ.—Nicholas, Sire de Condé (en partie), Baillœil and Moriamez, in Hainault (1261). He m. Catherine dau. and hss. of William de Caieu, Sire de Carency, and d. 24 Dec. 1293.[2] (B. I. 296, 583; Carpentier, III. 152, 346, 811). On his seal (1286) Vair,[3] two chevrons. (M. de Bethune, preuves 374).

448. LE VIDAMES DE LAON.—Baldwin I., Sire de Clacy, Vidame de Laon (1262), was father of Baldwin II. who d. about 1327, leaving an only dau. Mary the wife of Hugh de Châtillon, Sire de Rosoy in Tiérache. Gu. three pales chequy Arg. and Az., a chief Or. (M. de Chât. 588; Carpentier, III. 400.)

449. JAKES DE MONKABLON.—Jacques (son of Bartholomew) was Sire de Montchablon in the Laonnais in 1272. The name of his elder son is unknown; the yr., another Jacques, is probably here intended, as the arms are differenced.[4] (M. de Chât. 719).

450. GOBIERS DE MONKABLON.—Gobert II. Sire de Bouconville (1256, 1262), son of Gobert I., who was yr. brother of the above Bartholomew. He was father of Gobert III. Sire de B. and la Bove who d. 18 Oct. 1300. The brisure was a label Gu. (M. de Chât. 719).

451. LE SIRZ DE DOPPE.—Perhaps d'Aisc or d'Aix of Artois and Picardy. Vert 6 eagles displ. Or. (Carpentier, III. 894; Rietstap).

452-3. RAULFE AND JOHAN DE NEELE.—These arms are appropriate only to Clermont Néelles of the family of the Counts of Clermont in the

[1] To these arms was usually added the ombre of a lion ramp., a fugitive effect which the seal engraver perhaps thought beyond his powers to portray. For some remarks on this singular bearing see Her. and Gen. II. 96, 555.

[2] On his tomb, still, or lately, remaining in the Abbey of Cambron, is the epitaph: Cy gist Nicole de Condé, ki jadis fu sire de Bellœil et Moriamez ki trespassa l'an 1293 la jour avant la Nativité. (Roger, Noblesse de Flandre, etc., 209).

[3] The rows of vair are at right angles to the chevrons, and the lozenges so formed down the centre are each filled with a sprig of leaves. The same arrangement occurs on the seal (1383) of his descendant John de Condé. (Dom. Plancher, Hist. de Bourgogne, III. 75). See also Berry, No. 497.

[4] Le Sire de Monsablon porte de synoble à trois peulz vairiez, au chef d'or. Messire Jaques de Monchablon porte de synople à trois pals de vair au chef d'or chargé d'une fleur de lys de gueulles. (From contemporary French Blasons d'Armoiries).

Beauvaisis, and may be supposed to have been assumed on account of the marriage of Renaud II., Count of Clermont with Clemence dau. of Renaud I., Count of Bar. The only John and Ralph de Néelles of the period seem to have belonged to the family of the Counts of Soissons.

454. RAUFE DE CLERMONT.—Ralph de Clermont II., Sire de Néelle, Constable of France in 1287. He m. 1. Alice, Vicomtesse de Châteaudun, dau. of Robert de Dreux, Sire de Beu; 2. Isabel dau. of John II., Count of Hainault. He was killed at Courtrai 11 July 1302. (A. VI. 48). The label Az. should be charged with a mullet Arg. on the first point, according to Ste. Marthe.

455. THOMAS DE COVSI.—Thomas II., Sire de Vervins (1253), grandson of Ralph I., Sire de Coucy. He m. 1. Isabel dau. of Arnoul VII., (V.) Count of Loss; 2. Margaret dau. of Gerard de Péquigny, Vidame d'Amiens. He d.[1] before 1276. Renaud, Sire de V. discontinued the bend Or on the extinction of the elder line of Coucy (of the family of Guines) in 1397.[2] (M. de Coucy 242; D. II. 724). 'Vervin crie Coussi à la marveille.' (Berry, p. 48). [For paly read barry].

456. JOHAN DE FFALLUY.—John de Néelle III., Sire de Falvy-sur-Somme and la Hérelle, grandson of John I., Châtelain de Bruges, who was yr. br. of Conon and of Ralph, Counts of Soissons. He m. 1. Beatrix dau. of William, Count of Joigny; 2. (1260) Jane dau. of Simon, Count of Ponthieu, and in her right was Count of Ponthieu, Montreuil and Aumale: but in 1289 he resigned to Edward I., of England and his Queen all his rights in the comté de P. On his seal (1272), barry and a bendlet. On his wife's, Castile and Leon quarterly; she was widow of Ferdinand III. (M. de Bethune 275, preuves 170; D. II. 755; A. II. 507).

(To be continued.)

MAWSON'S OBITS, ETC.

(Continued from Vol. VI, p. 213.)

1725 Nov^r 28 died M^r Leonard an eminent Vintner at the Ship Tavern without Temple Bar.

Nov^r 26 dyed Bell Jones, Esq^r Chief Clerk and Secretary to the Office of Ordinance.

Nov^r 28^th^ S^r Thomas Masters Kn^t^ was married to the Widow of M^r Henry Rhodes deceased, the Rich Bookseller in Fleet Street.

They write from Oxford, that Henry Talbot, Esq. Son to the Lord Bishop of Durham was lately married to Miss Clopton, Daughter to Councellor Clopton of Stratford upon Avon in Warwicksh: in Trinity College Chappel by the Rever^d^. M^r^. Ingram.

Dec^r 1 died M^r Rob^t^ Hulls an eminent Merchant in Cannon Street.

December 2^d^ Elizabeth, Lady Austin Relict of S^r Rob^t^ Austin Bart. and late Wife of Wm. Wynde Esq^r was carried out of Town in great State, to be interr'd at Bexley in Kent.

[1] 1281, according to Butkens.

[2] The writer of an article on Walford's Roll (Her. and Gen. IV, 432) supposes these arms to have belonged to Thomas son (?) of Enguerrand de Coucy; but the bend Or was the undoubted brisure of the Sires de Vervins.

Lett envy saye what it can
This was an honest man,
Whoe in his life did many good,
And to the trveth firmely stode,
Religious, wise, and ivst was hee,
And ever lyved worthylie.

1. BAYNARD ; impaling, Argent, a chevron between three fleur-de-lis sable.

2. dit. dit.; impaling, Azure, two swords in saltire between four fleur-de-lis or. BARROW.

3. dit. dit.; impaling, Argent, a chevron between three marten's heads sable. LUDLOW.

4. dit. dit.; impaling, Azure, a chevron between three pears pendant or. STEWKELEY.

5. dit. dit.; impaling, Azure, fleur de-lisy, a lion rampant or. POOLE.

6. dit. dit.; impaling, WALSINGHAM.

7. dit. dit.; impaling, Party per fess embattled or and sable, six crosses patty counterchanged. WARNEFORD.

8. dit, dit.; impaling, Or, a chevron between three garbs sable. BLAKE.

(To be continued.)

Notes on the Foreign Coats in Planche's Roll of Arms.

(Continued from p. 39).

457. LE SIRE DE ROYE.—Matthew I. Sire de Roye in Santerre (Picardy) in 1248, son of John, son of Ralph Sire de R. He d. in 1301-2. (A. VIII. 8).

458. MAIIEUS DE ROYE.—Matthew de Roye I. Sire de la Ferté-en-Ponthieu (1280), son of Ralph, second son of the above Ralph Sire de R. He m. Jane elder dau. and hss. of Clairambault III. Sire de Vendeuil. Gu. a bend Arg., a labol of 5 points [Az.] (seal, 1275). (M. de Bethune, 285, preuves 175; A. VIII. 14).

459. HUGES DE BASENTIN.—He occurs in 1272—probably brother or yr. son of Renaud Sire de Bazentin and Montauban in Picardy, who d. in 1262. Az. flory Arg. (Carpentier, III. 184).

460. RAUFE FLAMERS.—Ralph le Flamenc V., Sire de Cany in Picardy, Marshal of France in 1287. He m. 1. Helvide dau. of Eustace II. Sire de Conflans, Marshal of Champagne; 2. Jane de Chaumont. (A. VI. 638). Or ten lozenges Gu. (Carpentier, III. 357).

461. PIERS DE GAINES.—He was probably a Picard; but the arms were those of John Sire de Gonnes in the Pays de Liège in 1275. (B. I. 288 ; Hemricourt 247).

462. AUBIORS DE HANGEST.—Aubert de H. IV., Sire de Genlis in Picardy and de Pont St. Pierre in Normandy (1259, 1281). He m. Isabel dau. of William the Chamberlain de Tancarville. (A. VI. 744).

463. LE SIRS DE HEM.—John I. Sire de Ham in Vermandois (1248, 1276). The family was descended, it is said, from the ancient Counts of Vermandois. (A. I. 55).

464-5. BARNARD DE MORNELL.—Bernard IV. Sire de Moreuil in Picardy (1249), and his son Bernard V. (1276, 1302). The latter m.

Yolande, only dau. of Ralph de Néelle, Vicomte de Cœuvres[1]. Az. flory Or, a lion naissant Arg. (A. VI. 716; Moréri).

466. Robarte de Puion.—The arms were those of the Sires de de Rivery in the Amiénois, and occur on the seal of Robin de R. in 1255. Maillart of Picardy bore the same, but one of the former family is probably intended. (Carpentier, III. 743, 947, preuves 29).

467-8. Le Sire de Molaines and Colars de M.—Peter Sire de Pontmolain or Pommolain in Champagne and his brother Colart. They were in the Crusades of 1249 and 1270, and are called de Moleines by DuCange. Or a fesse Gu. (M. de Chât. 710; Rietstap).

469. Raols de Trees.—Ralph de Sorel, surnamed d'Estrées (near Arleux in Artois), Sire du Bos, Marshal of France in 1281. He m. Adenette dau. of Hervé Vicomte de Busancy. Arg. a cinquefoil and an orle of martlets Gu. (Carpentier, III. 546, 1032; A. VI. 630).

470. Maheu Mindeble.—The Sires de Margival in the Soissonnais bore these arms with different tinctures, viz:—Arg. on a cross Az. five escallops Or. (Carpentier, III. 762).

471. Gobiers Dargies.—Gobert Sire d'Argies (2) or de Dargies in the Amiénois (1274). He left two dau. his heirs; Jane m. 1. Hugh Count of Soissons; 2. John de Clermont, Baron of Charolais; 3. Hugh de Châtillon, Sire de Leuse and Condé; Eustachia m. the Sire de Barbençon in Hainault. Or an orle of martlets Sa. (M. de Chât. 311; Carpentier III. 96).

473. Le Queus de Clermuntt.—Robert of France, sixth son of Louis IX.; b. 1256; Count of Clermont in the Beauvaisis and Sire de St. Just in Champagne (March 1269); Chamberlain of France (1310); m. (1272) Beatrice dau. and hr. of John de Bourgogne, Sire de Charolais and Bourbon; d. 7 Feb. $13\frac{17}{18}$ (Ste. Marthe II. 3-9; A. I. 295; D. II. 698).

474. Le Sires de Monmorenci.—Matthew IV., le Grand, Sire de Montmorency (Ile de France), d'Escouën, Argentan and Damville (1270—13 Oct. 1304-5), Admiral (1295) and Great Chamberlain of France. He m. 1. Mary dau. of Robert IV. Count of Dreux; 2. (March 1277) Jane dau. of Guy de Levis II. Sire de Mirepoix. (A. III. 572; D. II. 649). Or a cross Gu. between 16 alerions Az.

475. Le Visqueus de Melun.—William III. Vicomte de Melun (Ile de France), Sire de Montreuil-Bellay in the Saumurois (9 Feb. $125\frac{1}{2}$—1278). He m. Alice dau. of Erard II. Sire de Chacenay in Champagne, and widow of Guigues V. (VI.) Count of Forez. Az. seven bezants (melons, it is said) and a chief Or. (A. V. 224).

476. Symon de Molun.—Simon de M. (a yr. brother of the preceding) Sire de la Loupe and Marcheville, Seneschal of Périgord, Quercy and Limousin, Marshal of France in 1293. He was killed at Courtrai 11 July 1302. His brisure was 3 martlets Sa. on the chief. That of another brother, John, Sire de la Borde-le-Vicomte, was a lion naissant Gu. (A. V. 241, 246, VI. 640; Moréri, X. Appendix 41, 51.)

477. Le Sires de Cosegni.—Perhaps Renaud Sire de Chaumont and Quitry in the Vexin Français (1282, 1294). Barry of 8 Arg. and Gu. (A. VIII. 885.)

(1) Not, as Anselme by a singular confusion makes her, dau. of Ralph III. Count of Soissons.

(2) Another Gobert d'Argies was Sire de Quittebeuf in 1276, and m. Ida dau. of Amauri de Meullent, Sire de la Queué. (M. de Harcourt 2040, preuves 1625-7).

478. Peres de Blenus.—Peter de Blemus was in the expedition to Tunis in 1270. (Appendix to Joinville.) He belonged to the Beauvaisis. (St. Allais, V. 288.)

479. Maheu de Trie.—Matthew Sire de Trie (Vexin Français) 1258-1275, Count of Dammartin[1]. son of John II. Sire de T. by Alice dau. and hss. of Albéric II. Count of Dammartin. He m. Marselie de Montmorency. (A. VI 663.)

480. Tiebaus de Trye.—Thibaut, third son of the preceding. He m. Jane dau. and hr. of William de Bourris, Sire de Serifontaine. (A. VI. 672).

482. Guy Manuoysyn.—Guy Mauvoisin III., Sire de Rosny near Mantes. He m. Isabel dau. of Dreux de Mello I., Sire de l'Orme and Château-Chinon, and was living in 1283. (Maison de Dreux 115; A. VI. 61).

483. William Crispins.—William V. Sire de Bec Crispin, Néaufle, Dangu and Etrepagny, Marshal of France in 1283, a great baron of the Vexin Normand. He m. Jane dau. and hr. of William [Robert] de Mortemer, Sire de Varanguebec, la Lutumière and Bec du Mortemer, hereditary Constable of Normandy. (M. de Harcourt 270, 628; A. VI. 633).

484. Johan Crispins.—Sire de Lizores and St. Clair-sur-Epte, yr. brother of the preceding. He m. Amicia de Ferriéres. (A. VI. 633; M. de Harcourt 270).

485. Guy de la Roce.—Guy Sire de la Roche-Guion (Vexin Français), living 1290, 1301. Bendy Or and Az. a bordure Gu. (A. VIII. 621).

486. Lowis de Beau Ju.—Louis Sire de Beaujeu[2] and Dombes (1273—1290 or 94), second son of Renaud I. Count of Forez by Isabel dau. of Humbert V. (IV.) Sire de Beaujeu. He took the name of Beaujeu and the arms,—Or a lion ramp. Sa., a label of 3 points Gu. He m. Eleanor dau. of Thomas II. Prince of Piedmont. (A. VI. 731; B. II. 477).

487-8. Ancels de Lylle.—Ancel IV. Sire de l'Isle-Adam (Ile de France) in 1289. He m. Isabel dau. of Bernard V. Sire de Moreuil. Gu. a fesse between 7 martlets Arg. Several members of his family of the same name were his contemporaries. (A. VIII. 789).

489. Otrez de Tousi.—Otho de Tocy, Admiral of France in 1295, d. 15 Oct. 1297. He was son of Otho, a yr. son of Ithier V. Sire de Tocy in the Pays Chartrain and du Pays de Puisaye in the Gâtinais-Orléanais. (A. VII. 734). On the seal of John Sire de T. (1238), Châtillon, the chief charged with 4 martlets [Gu.] (M. de Bar-le-Duc, preuves 36), which Otho de T. bore Sa.[3].

490. Li Visques de Taublay.—The Vicomtes du Tremblay. Gu. a bend Or between 6 martlets, or mullets, Or [or Arg].

[1] "Matheus Comes Domni Martini", occurs as one of the heirs of Matilda Countess of Boulogne in a register of the Inquests expedited at Paris in the Parliament of 1267. The statement of Joinville has therefore misled those relying on it, such as the authors of L'Art de V. les Dates.

[2] Another Louis de Beaujeu, nephew of Humbert V., was Sire de Montferrand, m. Margaret dau. of Thibaut de Bomés Sire de Mirebeau and Blazon, and d. 26 Sept. 1280. He may well have borne the billets as a difference. (A. VI. 86).

[3] Monsieur Outhe de Tosy porte de gueulles à trois pals de vair, au chef d'or chargé de trois merlettes de sable. (Vieil blason d'Armoiries.)

492. TYBAUS DE MARLY.—Thibaut Sire de Mondreville, a yr. son of Bouchard II. Sire de Marly (Ile de France), Montreuil Bonnin in Poitou, and Picauville in Normandy; the latter was grandson of Matthew I. Sire de Marly, a yr. son of Matthew I. Sire de Montmorency. Thibaut de M. d. 18 Aug. 1287. On his seal (1282), the ancient arms of Montmorency, a cross between 4 eagles, the cross fretty as his own especial brisure. (A. III. 658.)

493. EBES DE BOISY.—Ebles de Poissy.

494. JOHAN DE BREUERE.—John I. Sire de Bruyères-le-Châtel in the forest of Ivelisse (Ile de France), 1273, 1283. He was also Baron of Chalabre and Puyvert in Languedoc, which Pons de B. had obtained from Simon de Montfort after the Albigensian crusade. He m. Eustachia dau. of Guy de Levis II., Sire de Mirepoix. Or a lion ramp. tail forked Sa. (Desbois, [1] III. 321, XIV. 125).

495. NYCHOLE DE CARBOYGNES.—Nicholas de Charbogne, Sire d'Autei [Autri]. He m. Isabel widow of Manassès Count of Réthel, and was styled Count of R. (1278, 1287) in his quality of guardian to his stepson Count Hugh IV. (M. de Chât. 725; B. II. 634).

(To be continued.)

MAWSON'S OBITS, ETC.

(Continued from p. 112)

Dec^{r} 31st dyed Suddenly at Westham in Essex, the Rever^{d}. M^{r}. Carter, Vicar of that place, Rector of S^{t}. Martins Outhwich & Chaplin in Ordinary to his Majesty.

Dec^{r} 29th dyed at his House in South'ton Buildings, Chancery Lane, M^{r} Scrimshire an eminent Attorney of the Temple.

1727-8 Jan^{ry} 4th died of a Fever at his House in Thames Street, John Crowley Esq^{r} Member of Parliam^{t} for Queenborough lately chose Alderman of Dowgate Ward in the Room of S^{r} ffrancis Forbes Dec'ed.

Jan^{ry} 2^{d} Dyed M^{r} Beadle Son to a rich Money Scrivener in this City who had the Day before Shot himself at his Lodgings over ag^{t} the Bull & Gate, in Holborn.

Jan^{r} 3^{d} the Hon^{ble} M^{rs} Harriot Yelverton died of the small Pox.

Jan^{r} 4th dyed at her House in great George Street near Hanover Square the Lady Curzon, Relict of the late S^{r} Nath^{l} [2] Curzon of Derbyshire Bar^{t} and Mother of the present Gentleman of that Name and Title.

Monday Jan^{ry} 8th S^{r} Abstrupus Danby Kn^{t} a Gentleman of a very ancient and Hon^{ble} Extraction in Yorkshire, died lately at his Seat in the North Riding of that County.

Jan^{ry} 5th died at the Earl of Harborough's near Golden Square, the Hon^{ble} John Noel of Walcot in the County of Northampton Esq^{r} one of the Representatives in Parliam^{t} for the County of Rutland, Son of the Viscountess Dowager Irwin, by her first Husband John Noel, Esq^{r}.

[1] La Chenaye-Desbois, Dictionnaire de la Noblesse, 15 vols. 4to., 1770-86.
[2] In the margin in same handwriting is "John."