PREFACE.

It is with sincere regret that I have, with the close of this volume, to announce my retirement from the post of Editor of THE GENEALOGIST, which I have had the honour to hold for the past five years. Within the last few months it has become evident that the time at my disposal was barely sufficient for the requirements of the magazine, and I therefore relinquish, much against my inclination, a position which it has been a very great pleasure to occupy even for so short a period. With feelings difficult to express, I have again and for the last time, to thank all those who have so generously and materially helped in the endeavour to print really useful and valuable information which might prove of service both to present and future genealogists.

In the selection of my successor and friend, Mr. H. W. Forsyth Harwood, the proprietors are to be congratulated on having secured the services of one so thoroughly capable of advancing the status and of upholding the high traditions of this well-known quarterly.

KEITH W. MURRAY.
